

CNIC IDEA JAMS

May 19, 2022 4pm PT/7pm ET.

Are you Listening?

IDEA JAMS are informal discussions about pressing topics related to the development of imagination and creativity.

Host: Ming-yu Lin

Listening is one of the ways we perceive the world, join the world, and enjoy the world.

How do we notice the sound?
How do we listen to the sound?
How do we appreciate the beauty of the sound?

This Idea Jam will be a journey of hearing, an adventure of finding sounds, and an invitation to share your experiences of listening.

Ming-Yu Lin is a piano teacher and a Ph.D. candidate in the Arts Education program at Simon Fraser University. Her research interests are in improvisation, listening, imagination, creativity, and play. Her dissertation will be focused on looking for the connection between the philosophy of improvisation and classical piano training.*
